50 Delicate Jewelry Finds Under $100

There's a major change happening in accessories—daintier pieces are picking up the slack from all the statement styles that have flooded the market, and we're all for it.

ANNACHICH BRAND PROFILE

ACCESSORIES, INSIDER'S OBSESSIONS, JEWELRY
BECKY JOHNSON

Founder of Annachich Jewelry. Becky Johnson is a graphic designer turned jewelry designer, based in San Francisco, CA. After studying at the Berman Academy of Jewelry Arts and interning under Master Goldsmiths, Alan Brown, Becky launched Annachich Jewelry as a natural extension of the graphic design work she found created, and emphasizes architectural or mathematical. Using fine jewelry production practices, Becky creates fashion jewelry that is affordable and well crafted. Find out what her current obsessions are!

Obsession: Skin Care. High Definition, Balancing Cream, Oil — My skin is super dry so I used to layer on layers of moisturizer after cleansing. Now I use a Balancing Cream Oil. It is not only great for removing makeup and grime, it keeps my face soft, supple, and moisturized in one step! I'm never going back!

Obsession: Coffee. I'm crazy about lattes, but I'm not crazy about trips to the coffee shop just to get my morning fix. Instead, I fill this little guy up with homemade vanilla milk, press the button and less than a minute later voila — a warm and luscious milk for my coffee! I use it every single morning!

Obsession: X. When I'm not on foot, Uber X is my go-to way around town. It's fast and the rates are competitive. The app is easy to use, and I know that there's usually a driver at my door in less than a minute!

Obsession: Annachich Jewelry. I love Gold — I'm obsessed with this stuff. I rock it almost every day — whether I'm in a t-shirt and jeans or dressed up in a glam dress! It's a special part to me because the design is inspired by the Tibetan Buddhist in San Francisco studio. Shop the collection online at annachich.com.

It's easy to see hints of Becky Johnson's past as a graphic designer in her collection, Annachich Jewelry. The line focuses on architecturally-inspired geometric shapes like hexagons and pentagons embellished with ornate details. From statement rings and earrings to cuffs and layered necklaces, all pieces are handmade in Johnson's San Francisco studio. Shop the collection online at annachich.com.
